TRAINING

Our range of courses is designed to be enjoyable and engaging whilst delivering tangible learning. Examples include:-

Partnership development

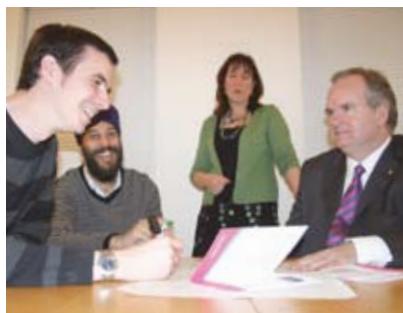

Partnerships are expensive, so it is crucial not to waste time. But how effective are yours?

Better meetings

How to deliver clear outcomes and high satisfaction for all participants.

Chairing skills

Get effective engagement, and ensure clear decision-making whilst making sure everyone goes home on time.

Facilitation skills

Whether a small working group or a large conference, you need the skills to balance the needs of participants with the required outcomes.

Organising an event

How to ensure a really successful event that meets its objectives.

Networking

Maximise networking opportunities – for the benefit of you and your organisation or business.

Speak to us about designing a course to meet your needs.

FACILITATION

The Capability Company will create an event designed to energise and build your charity, business or partnership using real issues as the material.

This might be a focus on strategy, such as visioning the future; or operational issues, such as internal communications. Such a day is often an excellent way of engaging all parts of an organisation in business or strategic planning.

If this might be what your organisation or partnership needs, give us a ring on 01491 872 727 to talk through your requirements or email: info@thecapabilitycompany.co.uk

The Capability Company also organises vibrant and participatory seminars and conferences.

Feedback

'I thought you did an excellent job yesterday. It was lively, got people working together, identified the challenges and issues more clearly and moved us forward. Well done!'
Public/voluntary sector partnership

'All participants were incredibly impressed at Karen's skill in keeping us on track, helping us to develop ideas in a creative way and helping build trust. Since the residential, we have made some major steps in developing a shared understanding of where we're going. I have no doubt that Karen's input was instrumental in achieving this.'
Partnership

'Interactive, sensitive facilitation'
Regional organisation's stakeholder day

'A very well organised day. Learned a great deal. Many thanks'
National Charity
